Preface

Treasury Profile

The Treasury Department was created by an act of Congress approved on September 2, 1789, 31 U.S.C. 301. Many subsequent acts have influenced the development of the Department, delegating new duties and establishing numerous bureaus and divisions which now compose the Department. Today, the Treasury's mission can be categorized into four basic functions: formulating and recommending economic, financial, tax and fiscal policies; serving as financial agent for the U.S. Government; enforcing the law; and manufacturing coins and currency.

Financial Management Service

The Financial Management Service of the Department of the Treasury performs a critical role in fulfilling the Treasury's mission as financial agent of the Government. Financial Management Service promotes the financial integrity of the Government through sound money management on behalf of the public. The Financial Management Service is responsible for the Government's delivery systems for payments and collections, the central accounting and reporting systems, the Government's cash management programs and various other financial services.

In its role as financial agent for the Government, the Financial Management Service publishes this Annual Report of the U.S. Government. This report presents an overview of the Government's cash basis financial position and results of operations. It summarizes selected data that are maintained in the central accounts based on data provided by Federal entities, disbursing officers and Federal Reserve banks. Details supporting the information presented in this report are contained in the Annual Report Appendix which is available from Financial Management Service's Financial Reporting Division. An order form for the Appendix is provided as the last page of this publication.

Legislative Requirement

The requirements for the preparation of a report on the receipts and outlays of the Government originated with Article I, Section 9 of the Constitution of the United States. It provides in part that "no money shall be drawn from the Treasury, but in consequence of appropriations made by law, and a regular Statement and Account of the Receipts and Expenditures of all public money shall be published from time to time." (Emphasis provided). This requirement was followed by a standing order of the House of Representatives, dated December 31, 1791, which required an annual report on receipts and outlays of the Government. This requirement was superseded by the following:

- 31 U.S.C. 331(c) provides, "On the first day of each regular session of Congress, the Secretary shall submit to Congress a report for the prior fiscal year on the total amount of public receipts and public expenditures listing receipts, when practicable, by ports, districts, and States and the expenditures by each appropriation."
- 31 U.S.C. 3513(a) provides, "The Secretary of the Treasury shall prepare reports that will inform the President, the Congress, and the public on the financial operations of the United States Government."

This Annual Report is recognized as the official publication of receipts and outlays with which all other reports containing similar data must be in agreement. It is used by the Congressional Budget Office in serving the needs of Congress; the Office of Management and Budget in reviewing the President's Budget programs; the General Accounting Office in performing its audit activities; the various departments and agencies of the Government in reconciling their accounts; and the general public in continually reviewing the operations of their Government. Other reports prepared by the Department of the Treasury that contain related information include: The Daily Treasury Statement; Monthly Treasury Statement of Receipts and Outlays of the United States Government; and the Treasury Bulletin.

Budget Outlays by Function

Budget outlays are liquidations of the Government's obligations through the issuance of checks or disbursement of cash. Total budget outlays were $936.8 billion in FY 1985, an increase of $95 billion or 11.3% over the amount of the preceding fiscal year. Shown below is the percentage distribution of FY 1985 budget outlays among the seven largest categories included in the government's functional classification system. The functional classification system is a way of grouping the government's activities so that all budget authority and outlays of budget and off budget Federal Entities, loan guarantees, and tax expenditures can be presented according to the national needs being addressed. National needs are grouped in 17 broad areas to provide a coherent and comprehensive basis for analyzing and understanding the budget. Three additional categories—Interest, Allowances and Undistributed Offsetting Receipts—do not address specific national needs but are included to cover the entire budget. Under the functional classification system, each outlay is assigned to a classification that best defines its most important purpose, even though many outlays serve more than one purpose.

Total budget outlays in FY 1985 were $936.8 billion compared with $841.8 billion in FY 1984. The percentage distribution of outlays among the seven largest functional classifications is shown graphically below.

The table that follows shows FY 1985 and FY 1984 budget outlays for each functional classification and the amount and percentage change in outlay levels between these two fiscal years. Changes in outlays for the largest functional classifications are briefly discussed below.

The table that follows shows FY 1985 and FY 1984 budget outlays for each functional classification and the amount and percentage change in outlay levels between these two fiscal years. Changes in outlays for the largest functional classifications are briefly discussed below.

- National Defense—This function includes those activities that are directly related to the defense and security of the United States. To meet the need for strengthening the nation's military capabilities, FY 1985 National Defense outlays increased by $24 billion to $251.5 billion. This amount encompasses government spending for conventional forces, strategic forces, supporting activities and atomic energy defense and related activities.
- Education, Training Employment and Social Services—A number of federal programs are directed toward improving the operations of the labor market, enhancing individuals' long-term employment and earnings prospects and providing social services to needy individuals. Outlays for these programs increased by 6.5% to $28.4 billion in FY 1985.
- Health—The Federal Government helps to meet the nation's health care needs by financing and providing health care services, aiding disease prevention and supporting research and training. Outlays for this function were $33.6 billion in FY 1985, an increase of $3.1 million over the prior fiscal year.
- Social Security and Medicare—Through social security and medicare the Federal Government contributes to the income security and health of aged and disabled Americans. This function's outlays were $254.4 billion for FY 1985, an increase of 7.9% or $18.7 billion over the FY 1984 outlays.

- Income Security—Income security benefits are paid to the aged, the disabled, the unemployed and low income families. Outlays for these benefits were $129.0 billion in FY 1985, an increase of 13.9% or $15.8 billion over the FY 1984 level. Included within this classification are programs such as general retirement and disability, public assistance and unemployment compensation.
- Veterans Benefits—Benefits and services provided to veterans meet the Nation's obligation to veterans for military services. Outlays for this function were $26.4 billion in FY 1985, an increase of $740 million over the prior fiscal year. Programs included within this function for veterans are income security; education, training, and rehabilitation; hospital and medical care; and veterans housing.
- Interest—This function includes interest paid by the Federal Government, offset by interest collections from the public and interest received by Government Trust Funds. Net interest outlays are very sensitive to both interest rates and the amount of debt outstanding. Net interest outlays increased in FY 1985 to $129.1 billion, a 16.3% increase over the prior fiscal year.

Trust Fund Receipt and Outlay Summary

Trust fund accounts are maintained to record the receipt and outlay of moneys held in trust by the Government for use in carrying out specific purposes or programs in accordance with the terms of a trust agreement or statute. This section summarizes how trust fund operations contribute to the overall level of receipts and outlays of the Federal Government. This section also demonstrates the variety of trust funds and their operations. Some trust funds such as the Federal Hospital Insurance Fund, Federal Old Age & Survivors Insurance Fund and Unemployment Fund accumulated sizable excess receipts in FY 1985, while others such as the Federal Disability Insurance Fund accumulated excess outlays. The chart presented below summarizes the operations of the major trust funds in FY 1985.

The table on the following page summarizes trust fund operations for FY 1985 and FY 1984 and the dollar change between these two fiscal years. Presented below is a description of the receipt and outlay levels of the major trust funds for FY 1985.

- Federal Disability Insurance—In FY 1985, the receipts of the Federal Disability Insurance Fund were $16.6 billion. The fund's outlays were $17.8 billion for an excess of outlays over receipts of $1.3 billion.

Revolving Fund Activity by Department

Public enterprise revolving funds are authorized by specific provisions of law to finance a continuing cycle of operations in which outlays generate receipts and the receipts are available for outlays without further action by the Congress. The following chart summarizes FY 1985 receipt and outlay activity for the departments of the Government that have the most sizable revolving fund operations.

The table on the following page presents revolving fund activity by department for FY 1985. Summarized below are the receipt and outlay levels of those departments with the most sizable revolving fund operations.

- Department of Housing and Urban Development—In FY 1985, the gross outlays of revolving funds of this Department totalled $19.2 billion while gross receipts were $6.4 billion. Net revolving fund outlays in FY 1985 were $12.8 billion.
- Tennessee Valley Authority—In FY 1985, revolving funds of the Tennessee Valley Authority generated $5.6 billion in gross outlays, $4.7 billion in gross receipts and net outlays of $0.9 billion.
- Funds Appropriated—The net outlays of revolving funds maintained by the Funds Appropriated amounted to $0.3 billion in FY 1985. This consisted of $0.9 billion in gross outlays and $0.6 billion in gross receipts.
- Interior—FY 1985 gross outlays of revolving funds operated by the Interior totalled $0.4 billion and gross receipts totalled $0.1 billion. The net revolving fund outlays were $0.3 billion.

Notes to the Financial Statements

1. Description of Accounts Related to Cash Operations

The classes of accounts maintained in connection with the cash operations of the Government include:

- The accounts of fiscal officers or agents who receive money for deposit in the U.S. Treasury or for other authorized disposition or who make expenditures by drawing checks on the Treasury;
- The accounts of administrative agencies which classify receipt and outlay transactions according to the individual receipt, appropriation or fund account; and
- The accounts of the Treasury of the United States which office is responsible for the receipt and custody of money deposited by fiscal officers or agents.

A set of central accounts is maintained in the Department of the Treasury for the purpose of consolidating financial data reported periodically from these three sources in order to permit the results of cash operations in central financial reports, for the Government as a whole and as a means of internal control.

The central accounts relating to cash operations disclose monthly and fiscal year information on:

- The Government's receipts by principal sources, and its outlays according to the different appropriations and other funds involved; and
- The cash transactions, classified by type, together with certain directly related assets and liabilities which underlie such receipts and outlays.

Accounting for receipts is on the basis of collections; outlays of receipts are treated as deductions from gross receipts. Accounting for outlays is on the basis of checks issued and cash payments made (cash basis); revolving and management fund receipts, reimbursements and refunds of monies previously expended are treated as deductions from gross outlays. The interest on the public debt, public issues, is recognized on the accrual basis however, the interest on special issues is on the cash basis. The structure of the accounts provides for a reconciliation, on a firm accounting basis, between the published reports of receipts and outlays for the Government as a whole and changes in the Treasury cash balance by means of such factors as checks outstanding, deposits in transit, and cash held outside the Treasury. Within the central accounts, receipts and outlay accounts are classified as:

- General fund receipt accounts;
- Special fund receipt accounts;
- General fund expenditure accounts;
- Special fund expenditure accounts;
- Revolving fund accounts;
- Consolidated working fund accounts;
- Management fund accounts;
- Trust fund accounts; and
- Transfer appropriation accounts.

These accounts are described in detail in the Annual Report Appendix.

2. U.S. Treasury Operating Cash

Major sources of information used to determine Treasury's operating cash include the Daily Balance Wires from the Federal Reserve Banks, reporting from the Bureau of the Public Debt, electronic transfers through the Treasury Financial Communications System and reconciling wires from Internal Revenue Service Centers. Operating cash is presented on a modified cash basis: deposits are reflected as received; and withdrawals are reflected as processed.

3. Special Drawing Rights (SDRs)

The Special Drawing Rights Act of 1968 and the Bretton Woods Agreements Act of 1945 authorize the United States to participate in the Special Drawing Rights Department of the International Monetary Fund and accept the resulting financial obligations in the Fund. The Special Drawing Rights Act provides the permanent authority for the United States to meet its financing requirements in connection with the acquisition and use of SDRs (which is the unit of account for Fund transactions), by the issuance of SDR certificates to Federal Reserve Banks.

4. Miscellaneous Asset Accounts

Included in miscellaneous assets are gold assets and their related certificates in the following amounts:

	FY 1985	FY 1984
Gold assets	11,089 million	$11,097 million
Liabilities (certificates)	11,089 million	$11,097 million

5. Off-Budget Federal Entities

These are federally owned and controlled entities whose transactions (e.g., budget authority or outlays) have been excluded from budget totals under provisions of law. The fiscal activities of these entities, therefore, are not reflected in either budget authority or outlay totals. However, the outlays of off-budget Federal entities are added to the budget deficit to derive the total Government deficit that has to be financed by borrowing from the public or by other means.

The cash transactions of the Synthetic Fuels Corporation net to zero in Fiscal Years 1983 and 1984. The deficit of the Rural Electrification and Telephone Revolving Fund amounted to less than $500,000.

6. Other Transactions not Applied to Surplus or Deficit

Seigniorage is the difference between the value of coins as money and their cost of production. Seigniorage on coins arises from the exercise of the Government's monetary powers and differs from receipts coming from the public, since there is no corresponding payment by another party. Therefore, seigniorage is excluded from receipts and treated as a means of financing a deficit or as a supplementary amount to be applied to reduce debt or to increase the cash in the Treasury in a year with a surplus.

Profit resulting from the sale of gold as a monetary asset is treated like seigniorage, since the value of gold is determined by its value as a monetary asset rather than as a commodity.

7. Federal Securities Outstanding

These consist of public debt and agency debt and include all public and agency debt issues outstanding.

- Public Debt—That portion of the Federal debt incurred when the Treasury or the Federal Financing Bank (FFB) borrows funds directly from the public or another fund or account. To avoid double counting, FFB borrowing from the Treasury is not included in the public debt. (The Treasury borrowing required to obtain the money to lend to the FFB is already part of the public debt.)
- Agency Debt—That portion of the Federal debt incurred when a Federal agency, other than the Treasury or the Federal Financing Bank, is authorized by law to borrow funds directly from the public or another fund or account. To avoid double counting, agency borrowing from Treasury or the FFB and Federal fund advances to trust funds are not included in the Federal debt. (The Treasury or FFB borrowing required to obtain the money to lend to the agency is already part of the public debt.) Agency debt may be incurred by agencies within the Federal budget (such as the Tennessee Valley Authority) or by off-budget Federal entities (such as the Postal Service).

8. Deposit Fund Liabilities

These include certain accounts established to record amounts either (a) held in suspense temporarily and later refunded or paid upon administrative or legal determination as to proper disposition thereof, or (b) held by the Government as agent for others (for example, State and local income taxes withheld from Federal employees' salaries and payroll deductions for the purchase of savings bonds by civilian employees of the Government).

9. Undistributed Offsetting Receipts

These receipts are composed of the following types of payments:

- Payments to trust funds by Government agencies for their employees' retirement;
- Interest paid to trust funds on their investments in Government securities; and
- Proprietary receipts from rent royalties on the Outer Continental Shelf lands.

Undistributed offsetting receipts are not deducted from outlays at the function, subfunction and agency levels. However, they are deducted from the budget totals.

10. Where applicable, prior year amounts have been revised to reflect realignment to the current Budget of the U.S. Government.
